Water Works Calm As Building Skyrockets

SIDNEY EXPANDING BY HOUSE-A-DAY
AS BUILDERS GOBBLE LAST LOTS

Single family dwellings are going up in Sidney at the rate of one house per each working day since January 1 with a record building permit total of $1,231,289 for the first three months of 1973.

Questioned on the addition of a 64 new homes and the probability of a water crisis this summer, Waterworks secretary-treasurer Bob Gibbs says that sprinkling restrictions now being printed will be the same as last year, except that no permits will be given for establishment of new lawns.

Building permits for homes have been given for single-family dwellings on existing lots only. Since March 1972, Sidney Waterworks has refused to accept applications for multiple-family dwellings and new subdivisions.

About 450 units are represented in applications now on file, awaiting the lifting of the Waterworks ban.

According to Gibbs, Sidney has a perfectly adequate water supply to meet present needs and with sensible use of water, there will be no problem. "Basically, all the money is being spent on lawns!"

Last summer, irate homeowners who were mostly newcomers to Sidney, petitioned Council to do something about the water supply. They grumbled about the sprinkling restrictions and lack of water pressure.

Sidney has plenty of water in the winter, points out Gibbs, but last August, thirsty customers and their gardens swallowed 14,125,000 gallons, exactly double the amount used during an average winter month.

The Waterworks District is currently testing a new well near White Birch Rd. which, it is hoped, will augment the supply. The suggestion that winter water

New Trustee Joins Board

Newly-appointed trustee for Saanich sector, Dr. R.E. Tinney was sworn in at Saanich School Board meeting Monday.

The ceremony was performed by Ross Ingram, assistant secretary-treasurer in the absence of Judge D.G. Ashby and Gordon Blair, secretary-treasurer.

Trustee Gordon Ewan strongly objected to this action, saying "the Public Schools act does not provide for an assistant secretary-treasurer to perform the swearing-in ceremony." His objection was registered and Board members welcomed the bearded Dr. Tinney to a place at the Board table.

SAILING VESSEL BEACHED NEAR SIDNEY

IN A LAGOON on the East side of the island now known as Toad's Landing, near Canoe Cove, an old wooden sailing ship was beached last week. The vessel, which had previously sailed out from England by way of the South Seas was put up on 'the hard' by means of legs, a somewhat ancient method of positioning a ship not often seen in these waters.

The master of the vessel, who declined to be identified, was observed sitting in a deckchair above high tide level while six of his crew laboured throughout the weekend on the boat. He told a reporter that "them tars are fitting a 22' yard to the mainmast, plus a 14' jib boom to her prow." He also mentioned that at a later date a swivel gun would be mounted "in an appropriate place on her upper deck."

Prohibitive Sewer Costs At Parkland

Bids for installation of Parkland School sewers on McDonald Park Rd. are considerably higher than engineers have estimated and Saanich Peninsula School Board is considering a last-minute switch in arrangements.

Lowest bid submitted for the sewer design which includes a gravity connection for Kiwanis Village property, was from O.K. Paving at $65,501. Engineers estimate was $45,000.

Lands and building superintendent Bryan Shaw told the Board that after a meeting with engineers and O.K. Paving, the project was redesigned and the bid revised to $55,480. Cost differences between bid and estimate can be attributed to the

'Pub' Vote Names Filed

A lot of miles have been chalked up by Kenneth Geary of Brentwood Motel in his effort to collect 1155 names of residents who favour a "pub" in Central Saanich.

Last fall, Geary collected 344 names for a petition to the Liquor Control Board requesting a plebiscite to make this municipality "wet". However J.W. Smallwood, electoral officer, notified Council that 35 percent of the municipality's provincial voters must sign a petition.

Central Saanich has three electoral districts and a total of 3,300 voters and two weeks ago, Geary sent the required percentage of names to the provincial secretary.

Eventually Geary plans to replace the present motel accommodation with a luxury motor inn which will include a beer parlour, cocktail lounge and restaurant. The new building has been planned for some years but until the sewer system for this area of the municipality was completed this spring, such construction was out of the question.

SIDNEY COMMUNITY PLAN ADOPTED Zoning Changes More Difficult

Describing the action as an "excellent move", Mayor Stan Dear successfully encouraged Sidney Council to give final approval to a community plan for the town at Monday's regular council session.

The plan was almost stalled when alderman Fred Robinson introduced a motion to table discussion until public hearings had been held on two re-zoning applications presently before council.

For what he described as discussion purposes, alderman Chris Andersen said he would second the motion, but dropped the matter when Mayor Dear explained that a tabling motion was not debatable.

Robinson said that he had been one of the plan's strongest advocates but felt that the two re-zoning matters should be heard before the plan was finalized.

Following a question from the Mayor, town clerk Geoff Logan pointed out that allowance had been made for one of the re-zoning applications but property on the corner of the Pat Bay Highway and Beacon Avenue which has been proposed as a site for a new motel had not been taken into account.

Mayor Dear said that the community plan lays out, formally, the zoning areas of the town - and makes it more difficult for council to make changes.

Under Provincial legislation, the plan will now be registered with the Province, and changes can only be made by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

HALT ORDERED ON LIMPET CONSTRUCTION

Owner Claims Its A Boat
INSPECTOR NOT SURE

Construction on the world's first Limpet has ground to a halt, following the attachment of a stop-work order to the vessel last week.

The stop-work order was issued by North Saanich inspector of services T.A. Crack after the Limpet was described in a Review news story on April 4.

Mr. Crack told the Review that the order had been issued because no permit had been obtained for the 'structure'.

Asked if he was treating the Limpet as a building, Mr. Crack said he was "trying to figure out what it (the Limpet) is."

"I don't know what its supposed to be," he said, adding that the municipality's control over the foreshore extends out 1000 feet and that, normally, only temporary anchoring of boats is allowed within the foreshore area.

Mr. Crack did say, however, that some district residents did keep their craft on fixed anchorage in front of their homes during the summer months.

Owner Bert Buchanan, on the other hand, has no doubt as to the Limpet's status. It is registered as a boat; described as 24 feet long, 11½ feet wide, with a 2½ foot draft and powered by a 10 horse-power outboard motor.

On the advice of Mr. Crack, Buchanan has written to North Saanich Council asking for a six month permit to allow completion of the Limpet.

Mr. Buchanan said that he ultimately intends to use it as a "recreation vehicle".

"It is mobile," he claims.

As well, the Limpet, according to Buchanan, is out of sight of any homes in the area (Lochside Drive, south of Sidney) and is on Buchanan's property, rather than on the foreshore as claimed by North Saanich. Mr. Buchanan added that none of the residents in the area had complained about the boat.

North Saanich Council are expected to make a decision on the matter at their next regular meeting on April 16.

AIRPORT NOISE MAY DECLINE

Although "it may take a little time," according to Sidney Mayor Stan Dear, aircraft noise over the town may diminish somewhat as the result of a letter from Sidney to the Federal Department of Transport.

At the direction of Council, a letter was sent to the Department asking that aircraft use runways not in a direct line with the town, whenever possible, and that something be done to cut down the number of training flights out of the local airport.

In a reply read to Council on Monday evening, a DOT spokesman wrote that Council's concern was "well appreciated." His Department would be contacting Air Canada, Pacific Western Airlines and Canadian Pacific Airlines, he said, setting down more stringent regulations governing familiarization flights.

Council's suggestions, however, that alternative runways be used by regular commercial flights — except in case of storm conditions — was rejected by DOT on the basis that the longest runway (whose flight path is over Sidney) is the only one equipped for instrument landings. As well, wind conditions far below those considered as a storm would determine the runway to be used, the letter explained.

"IT LOOKED LIKE A ROMAN CANDLE," was the comment of one on-looker last week, when the coating on a dolphin at the Swartz Bay ferry terminal burst into flame. Workers were using a cutting torch to sever large bolts in the piles when the creosote covered poles caught fire. An employee of the contracting firm working on the docks is pictured above giving the smoldering dolphin a good watering down. (Review Photo)

Will Kingswood Be 'Frozen'?

Chairman of the Kingswood subdivision committee, North Saanich alderman George Aylard confirmed this week that Pemberton, Holmes Ltd., agents for land owner W.G. Wills.

The first committee meeting of the year was called last Wednesday to discuss a list of proposals for a land-use contract, submitted by Pemberton, Holmes Ltd., agents for land owner W.G. Wills.

"Everything is up in the air," said Ald. Aylard. "Civil servants themselves are not clear about the meaning of Bill 42."

Proposals for use of the 300 acres on West Saanich Rd. and Wains Rd. have been presented to Council since 1968.

A bylaw to declare the land a development area caused much controversy in Council last year and was finally signed by Mayor Trevor Davis after a six-month delay.

A HOUSE ON TURGOOSE POINT which has been the subject of some debate in past months by Central Saanich Council was set afire by Central Saanich Volunteer Firemen last week.

Described by Alderman Percy Lazarz as being "a haven for the transient population that do come through". The fire department was authorized to go in and 'look after the matter'. (Photo by Gordon Ewan)

Sidney Sewage Treatment Plant Opens Saturday

A number of officials from Sidney, the Capital Regional District Board and construction companies will participate in the formal acceptance and opening Saturday of Sidney's new sewage treatment plant on Fifth Street.

A button will be pushed by officials at 2:30 Saturday afternoon to activate the mechanism of the $1.26 million plant. This ceremony at the plant will be open to public.

After the opening ceremonies the new plant will be open for public inspection from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

On hand for the occasion will be Mayor Stan Dear and other Sidney dignitaries, Capital Regional District Board Chairman Jim Campbell and builders who worked on the project.

The new plant will provide secondary treatment for the town of Sidney and has a capacity for processing up to 500,000 gallons of sewage per day. It is believed the new facility will take care of Sidney's needs for the next decade, and it was designed so that its capacity can be increased later.

Regional engineers said that the productive life and effective operation of the plant will be determined by the extent to which Sidney continues to allow storm sewer material to run through the system.

ST. ANDREW'S & HOLY TRINITY A.C.W.

Mrs. G. MacKay from Saute Ste. Marie was cordially welcomed to the April Afternoon Group meeting of St. Andrew's and Holy Trinity Anglican Church Women. Mrs. MacKay is the sister of President Mrs. D. Small and is in Sidney on a visit to her Mother and sister.

Mrs. W. Brethour opened with prayers and told of the continuing success of a young protegee in the North. Mrs. Brethour's young friends in the new subdivision are holding their annual sale in aid of the George Peckars Clinic and asked for donations of items which could be sold for 1c to 25c to the children, and $1 to the parents.

Final plans were made for the Spring Tea under the convener-ship of Mrs. W.E. Briggs.

Mrs. J. Atherton and the President gave a splendid report on the recent Diocesan Annual Meeting held in Port Alberni. The guest speaker had been Mrs. Goodaire from the Toronto Diocese, and a resolution had been passed to encourage new members to be reading Christians, also that silent meditation be used more in the meetings. A vote of thanks to the delegates for taking time to attend the Annual and bringing back their reports was heartily endorsed. Hostesses for May will be Mrs. J. Rogers and Mrs. W. Booth.

The well organized Daffodil Tea took place Saturday and was a most enjoyable and successful affair. Lady guests were presented with daffodil corsages as they entered; the Hall was gay with flowers and there was a daffodil stall. The Home Cooking, also Novelty and greeting cards tables did a brisk business and Mrs. W. E. Briggs and her helpers were well pleased. Full reports will be received at the May meeting but the convener wishes to thank all who attended and who helped in any way.

BETA SIGMA PHI

Due to the lack of response from service clubs in this area, with the exception of a very few, we now invite private businesses to sponsor contestants in the Miss Saanich Peninsula Contest.

Contestants must be single, be 17-21 years of age and live north of Royal Oak. They are to participate in a Fashion Show, May 2nd, as well as Pageant and Dance on May 12th. Entry fee is $10.00. First come, first serve as the limit is 12 contestants. Deadline is April 13. For registrations and inquiries, please phone 656-2668 days and 656-4970 after 5:00 p.m.

O.A.P.O. NO. 25

A meeting of the Old Age Pensioners Organization was held Thursday afternoon, April 5th in the Senior Citizens Centre. President Bill Booth was happy to see over a hundred turn out. Business was kept short as the high-light of the afternoon was an address from Mr. Gilmore of the Provincial Department of Health and Welfare. He explained the details of how to fill in the mini-income blue papers, and why the Department needed these papers filled in and returned. He is a very capable speaker with a clear voice, and was well received. All members enjoyed his talk.

Delegates were chosen for the three day Convention to be held in June at Penticton. A social hour followed.

PARENTS WITHOUT PARTNERS

Mother, father, as a parent alone when was the last time you went cycling with your son or daughter? How long has it been since you spent an hour or two sitting beside a campfire roasting weiners or marshmallows enjoying the time together? Or splashing away an afternoon in a local pool? Or just walking together along the shore? you wanted to yet hesitated because....

Parents Without Partners are enjoying these things week after week. It takes a bit of effort sometimes to get out and get going, but the rewards are wonderful. The happy grin on a child's face as you jump into the pool beside her, the closeness you feel as a son explains just how one masters riding the 10-speed, the discovery of a colorful rock or an interesting piece of driftwood.

Life is too short to be wishing after things that might have been. Put forth that effort, come along and meet new friends. Turn over a new leaf and find out that life can be interesting, challenging and beautiful. Phone 656-3700 after 3 p.m.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Sidney Museum will again be open to the public on Saturday, April 21st, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and continue open every day for the summer. This was decided at the Annual Meeting by members of the society who volunteer their services to keep the Museum open.

The duties are interesting and light and more volunteers would be welcomed by our Museum Director Mrs. May John.

The 1973 President is Mrs. Edna Bull succeeding Miss E.G. Moses who carried us through the past eventful year when over 10,000 visitors to the Museum were recorded. We now have approximately 60 paid up members.

Meetings will be held on the 3rd Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Museum on Beacon Avenue. The next meeting will be on April 19th, when we are looking forward to hearing Professor A.L. Atkinson speaking on "Heraldry". All interested are very welcome to attend and there is no charge.

ST. PAUL'S U.C.W.

Members of St. Paul's U.C.W. met Wed., April 4th in the Church hall.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Smith of the Sunshine Unit and were concluded by a duet "Beautiful Garden of Prayer," sung by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Palmer.

It was reported that the trim on the front of the church had been painted and twenty-one dollars donated to the Beulah Bourns Fund.

The Sunshine Group is having a Bake Sale on April 14th, 10 a.m. at the Bank of Montreal and preparations were made for the Mothers Ten on May 12th.

The meeting closed with the Misph Bendition.

SEWER COSTS

price of labor and laying pipe. Shaw said.

The O.K. Paving bid was based on the use of non-union labour, however, and this, said Shaw, could create a work stoppage on Parkland school. By using union labour, the cost would be increased by about $2,580.

Kiwanis had originally agreed to assume 15 percent of sewer installation costs which, with the revised bid, would leave School Board footing a bill for $52,003.85 while Kiwanis paid $9,177.15.

Board chairman Rubymay Parrot was concerned that the Board has paid engineers for an estimate which should have been closer to the mark.

Trustee Gordon Ewan asked whether the school could hook into Sidney's main instead of installing its own pumping equipment and force main. Shaw agreed to investigate such an alternative immediately. He pointed out in his report that Parklands must be in operation in 21 weeks time, "so there is no time to lose."

SEPTEMBER SHIFT

Overcrowding at McTavish Elementary will become serious next September and School District officials propose to shift all Grade Five and Six students to Sansbury Elementary at that time.

School superintendent Eric Lewis said that the change will not necessitate extra bus transport for many children, most of whom live within walking distance of Sansbury.

be stored for summer use is uneconomic, says Gibbs who adds that such water would also have to be chlorinated — another unpopular factor.

Meanwhile, restrictions which go into effect from May 1 to September 30 will advise customers against seeding lawns before fall. Although every house will be allowed water for a sprinkling every two days, it is possible to hand water at any time, commented the secretary-treasurer.

What are the prospects for Sidney's future water supply?

The main-lining of a water supply from the south end of the Peninsula is a possibility but, at the moment, it is far too expensive.

Hugh Curtis, M.L.A. has held preliminary talks with representatives from area municipalities to discuss water distribution problems.

In Sidney, M.L.A. has held preliminary talks with Hans Schneider agrees with Gibbs that there are only about 100 single-family lots left to build on.

The increased appetite for local homes is reflected in the March 1973 figure of $732,319 compared with 1972 March permits totalling $417,845.

The three month total this year of $1,231,289 likewise reflects a considerable increase in comparison with the 1972 three-month total of $789,555.

Clean Swimming

This Saturday heralds the official opening of Sidney pollution control centre (less delicately known as a sewage treatment plant) and the first summer season for years, in which local beaches will be clean and swimmable.

In Central Saanich, a similar centre will be opened in May, clearing the still waters of Brentwood Bay (probably the warmest swimming on the Peninsula) and removing noxious smells from ditches in the areas which never did "perk" too well.

It is to be hoped that development in other parts of the Peninsula, North Saanich for instance, and the Highlands which shoulder Central Saanich on the south, will not sully the waters which have been rescued from pollution at considerable expense to the individual Central Saanich and Sidney resident.

Latest developments regarding the proposed hydrographic station to be built on Department of Transport land by the Airport indicate that thought is being given to a hook-up of that system with Sidney's sewer. Whether or not this proves possible (there may be as many as 1,000 employees in the new station), it is comforting to think that D.O.T. officials are not continuing to regard Patricia Bay as a suitable outfall location.

THE JACK SCOTT COLUMN

The Child's View

I would like to read the full text by that Toronto committee of child psychologists, so briefly reported in the papers, before seconding the motion.

A sampling of pornographic literature doesn't do a healthy child any harm—that, in essence, appears to be the conclusion of this group of experts.

The only thing that surprised me about that point of view, allowing for the brevity of CP's report, is that they didn't make it stronger by suggesting that some selected reading of that sort might, in fact, do a whole lot of positive good.

I daresay that if the full report were available it would show that these men and women are disturbed, as I am, at the over-protective attitude of these times by parents, schools and the publishers of juvenile literature.

They all seem determined to pussy-foot around the subject of sex. In doing so, they complete a conspiracy of silence that must be both confounding and harmful to any child who has put aside his alphabetical blocks to speculate on other pursuits.

It used to be that the climate of prudery and stern Christian morality gave a child at least some awareness that sex activities were recognized by the adult world of authority as existing. It was bad, maybe, but it was real.

If nothing else, the bare rudiments of a sex education might be picked up at home or at school through the dire warnings and ponderous cautioning of your elders, including those who assured you you'd go crazy or stone cold dead if you fell in to temptation.

As adults grew more enlightened, a rapid process during the post-war years, they discarded this Victorian role of preaching against sex and, instead, simply took no position whatever on the assumption that this was the modern, intelligent approach.

The result was that what had been all strictures and censure became pretty much of a vacuum.

The trouble with this was, and is, that nature abhors a vacuum, especially when filling it can make a fast buck. So we entered the era in which sex became a kind of marketable commodity and the child, as much as the adult, became the consumer.

From itty-bitty moppets to puberty and beyond our kids today are exposed as they never have been before to commercialized sex.

The songs on their personal radio stations are slyly filled with suggestive meanings more often than not driven home by lads whose public relations men establish them as sex symbols. The situations in motion pictures, the gossip in the movie and love magazines they read, the whole cockeyed mythology of the day is so rooted in physical love that no one is surprised any more when a small girl, admiring a small boy, innocently announces the ultimate accolade: "He's sexy."

What is wrong with this emphasis in the world of children is that it puts sex out of focus. It permits little or no intelligent, responsible encounter—balance from parent or school to get equal time, as it were, with the kind of accelerated sex instruction they get from the mass media.

The real problem, in my view, is not so much in the precocious sex activities of youth. It is in what the social workers tell us is an appalling increase in recent years of abortions, unmarried teen-aged mothers and pathetic children shot-gunned into ridiculously early marriage by pregnancy.

These statistics make it clear that the modern child does not know the score at all, that the compulsive forces that intrigue and tempt the normal child are not being met with the sort of mature advice or information that once, however negative, served as a guide or a brake.

What is needed, of course, is a much more active role by parent and teacher in informing children in the facts, the realities and — yes — the beauty of physical love, to give instruction, to initiate free discussion on every aspect of sex, including contraception, so that it will not be left entirely to the merchants of lewdness.

A child with that sort of background, as the Toronto psychologists have said, could not be harmed by pornography in the selected, classic sense that I'm sure they had in mind—that is, the library of ribald erotica, the Rabelaisian literature of love's delights and might find, indeed, an effective antidote for the kind of insidious poison they absorb now in massive doses.

DISLIKES PROPOSAL

Saanich Peninsula School Board will again attempt to obtain departmental approval for a Political Science course to be taught in senior high school. Last year, the suggestion was rejected by the provincial Education department.

Trustee Gordon Ewan, who objected last year, reiterated his stand on Monday. "This is an open invitation to brainwashing, WATERFRONT PROPERTY OWNERS BRACE FOR "LIMPET" ASSAULTS...

"WAIT—I CAN'T TELL YET IF IT'S ONE OF THOSE SQUATTERS...OR JUST THE MILL BAY FERRY WITH AN OVERLOAD OF HOUSE TRAILERS!"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Review, Sir:

This is a letter of complaint. I am nauseated by the style of writing displayed in the Peninsula Police News last week. Who ever has been recently delegated the job of reporting the court cases is going a bit far. Let me give you an example: "The officer elected to pursue the gentleman since the object of his attention showed no great willingness to stop and discuss the matter with him: instead he speeded his automobile up, went across the road, into a ditch, thence over a lawn and eventually came to a halt with his machine imbedded in a fence." This is a long winded and badly written way of saying "When the officer signalled him to pull over the defendant sped up, crossed the road, a ditch and a lawn, ending up in a fence." (or something similarly compact). Also many people don't care if the defendant was smiling, if "he was no longer smiling," or even if a babies' gurgles was breaking the courts reverent silence.

I realize the problems a small newspaper such as yours has in getting competent reports, but this time you've squeezed the last slimy drop from the proverbial barrel's rotten wood: I would like to see you return to the method of simply and directly stating the relevant facts, and leaving it at that.

I only bothered to write this letter because the Police News is the only part of your paper I consistently read. Also, as I'm sure you are fully aware, one bad article reflects on the whole paper, and on the editor who lets it slip by.

The Review, Sir

The CARE of Canada 1972 annual report is so encouraging that we simply had to tell you that British Columbians once again topped the rest of Canada in per capita donations. No only did they top the rest of Canada but they increased their donations by more than 50 percent. This generosity merits telling and the press of British Columbia have played a very large part in making this possible. In a cross country survey of press clippings more than one third of all clippings originated in B.C. papers, for which we thank you very much.

British Columbia in CARE's feeding program, contributed greatly towards meals supplied daily to 28,000,000 pre-school and school aged children in 34 countries. Food which contains a high source of proteins and vitamins: such as CSM, a blend of cornmeal, soya and milk powder; WSB, a special wheat-soya blend and other staples such as bulgur wheat, rice and vegetable oil.

Three British Columbia Registered Nurses, Linda Matthews, Vancouver; Sharon R. Dawe, Vernon; and Helen MacRae of Kimberley donated their services in Indonesia looking after the sick and the maimed.

There is much more of the good deeds performed through the generosity of your readers. Please thank them on our behalf and thank you members of the press for your invaluable assistance.

Sincerely,
Douglas Smith,

Bible Still A Best-Seller

The Bible continues to be the most widely distributed book in the world. The Canadian Bible Society reports that the 1972 figures indicate an unprecedented circulation in Canada and overseas.

In Canada alone, the Society distributed 108,000 Bibles and more than 300,000 copies of the New Testament in addition to more than two and a half million copies of smaller scripture portions. Included in those figures are 33,000 bibles or Testaments in 76 languages other than English or French.

The Bible Society each year furnished free scriptures for the blind. More than 7,000 units in Braille or on cassettes or tape were given to the blind last year.

A highlight of the 1972 report was the announcement that the Canadian Bible Society forwarded $860,000 — or more than $16,500 per week — for the translation, printing, and distribution of the Bible overseas. Much of this was used to furnish scriptures to those who are newly-literate.

According to Dr. Kenneth MacMillan, general secretary, the Society is aiming to increase its support of world distribution of the Bible. "The hundreds of thousands who will join the ranks of the newly-literate depend upon their Canadian friends of all churches for copies of the Bible."

The Bible societies of the world have made steady progress in the translation of the scriptures.

Federal Funds For Senior Craftsmen

A federal government grant of $15,000 has been awarded to the Art and Facts group headed by Ed Raper in Central Saanich for projects involving senior citizens.

The grant was made available by the Health and Welfare department under the New Horizons program which is planned to encourage those of 65 and over to take a more active part in community life.

Although the organizing group applied for the grant last fall, Raper had almost given up hope of a grant this year. The Central Saanich farmer is a member of the Saanich Artifacts Society which operates a unique "working museum" at Saanichton Fair each year.

Many pieces of pioneer equipment need extensive repair and replacement of parts, much of which is done by retired craftsmen living on the Peninsula. Money from the grant will be used to buy tools, etc. for the projects and, at the same time, older people can pass on their skills to younger men.

Although the Saanich Artifacts Society which is a non-profit organization will be able to display the repaired farm tractors, engines and other antique pieces, the real value of the grant is in the satisfaction of such work gives to the senior citizens involved.

Raper explained that some of the most energetic workers had almost retired from active participation in life outside their home before they became involved with artifact repair.

A BAD NIGHT FOR TRUSTEE

Trustee Gordon Ewan was in an argumentative mood Monday, objecting to the swearing-in ceremony for Dr. R.E. Tinney, objecting to the agenda setup and to the fact that no report on the water for Parkland was ready.

PARENT OWNED PRE-SCHOOL

Happiness is -- being active participants in a Cooperative Pre-School. And the children and parents of the Sidney Parent Owned Pre-School are proof of this rewarding experience.

During March, the children enjoyed a visit to a farm and the beach, with a major excursion to Victoria for a Puppet Show, in addition to their regular activities at the school. Also, proceeds from our Bake Sale and Raffle held during February went toward the purchase of an indoor climbing frame which is a real hit with the kids.

We have just held our Annual General Meeting to set very nominal fees for next year. Enrollment is underway, and any parents with 3 or 4 year olds, interested in sharing in the rewarding developmental experiences of their children, should contact our Enrollment Chairman at 656-4968 to arrange to observe at our School at Malvern and 5th.

Later, the trustee objected to acceptance by the Board of a group of recommendations it had made earlier that evening in committee-of-the-whole. Ewan had registered negative votes on many of these recommendations and felt that according to Procedural Bylaw each one must be considered individually.

Chairman Rubymay Parrot over-ruled this stand however and was upheld by the rest of the Board.

"You are ramming your own decisions down the Board's throat", growled Ewan.

Wilderness Hike

Cordova Bay Elementary students will be taken to Strathcona Park on June 11 and 12 with the blessing of most members of Saanich Peninsula School Board.

Keating Elementary students obtained permission for a similar excursion at the last Board meeting and Trustee Jack Armstrong said the Cordova Bay school trip was all right with him "provided the first party all comes back."

Trustee Gordon Ewan was worried about the qualifications of adults accompanying the youngsters into the wilderness area. "Scoutmasters must take tests," he said.

Book Chat

The Battle Relived

By Mary Kierans

No chess encounter has ever caught the imagination or aroused such widespread interest as the Spassky-Fischer match last summer for the championship of the world.

Fischer vs. Spassky, Reykjavik 1972 is a new book by Alexander which gives many reasons for this interest. There is Fischer's striking personality, his chess genius as shown in his unprecedented results in the world championship preliminaries, the challenge by an American to the post-war domination of the Soviet school of chess, and the formidable Spassky, now at the peak of his reputation in chess.

Fischer v. Spassky is a book meant to appeal to a wide range of readers. It will interest the beginner in chess, the social player, and the expert.

The chapter describing the atmosphere in Reykjavik, Iceland will interest everyone. Here is the full story of the delay which made it appear for over a week that the match would never take place as Fischer made demand after demand. The book gives all the background of competitive chess, and many interesting facts about the history of the world championships and it describes vividly the events leading up to the match.

Fischer v. Spassky contains biographical and background information on these 2 giants of chess, including: how they started out in the game, youthful triumphs, and the development of their styles and strengths. It covers their important games, and the previous encounters between these two.

The second part of the book is "The Match." All 21 games of this epic battle are given, fully annotated. Thus, despite the complicated play, the average player can follow it clearly. The book is enhanced by a fine collection of photographs and drawings. Even if you have never read a chess book before, you will enjoy Fischer v. Spassky. Ask for it at the Sidney-North Saanich Branch of the Regional Library.

Dance Honors At Festival

Sidney dancers were included in the honor performance last Wednesday of the Greater Victoria Music Festival with a group demi-character number called "Raggy Anns."

Rae Burns' School of dancing pupils entered the Festival for the second year and placed well in ballet, tap and contemporary competition which were adjudicated by Dolores Kirkwood of Vancouver.

The honor performance of the dance section was called at the last minute, necessitating quick organization by Mrs. Pat Day, mother of two of the students. "Raggy Anns" included Janet Day, Lisa Rosko, Sheila Evans, Susan Carter, Marit Christensen, Marlene Robertson, Debbie Erickson and Vicki Hay (the latter replaced Liz Cowley). Members of the White Ballet were Sheila Marshall, Liz Cowley, Debbie Erickson, Heather Day, Laurel Douma and Bonnie McPhie. A contemporary number was danced by Laurel Douma, Heather Day, Liz Cowley, Debbie Erickson, Virginia Lacey, Janice Penke and Bonnie McPhie who replaced Sheila Marshall.

SR. CITIZENS CENTRE ASSISTANCE REQUEST GETS MIXED REACTION

Should Charge $10 A Year - Robinson

A very direct "no" and a "maybe" were the replies received by Sidney Council from the other two peninsula municipalities; to a request for assistance in operating the Senior Citizens' Centre in the town.

Sidney had written to both North and Central Saanich last month, outlining the of their residents using the centre, and asking for financial assistance in proportion.

The reply from Central Saanich said that the matter had been referred to their budget committee, and an answer would be forthcoming when the Central Saanich budget has been established.

North Saanich, on the other hand, adopted a motion introduced last week by alderman Nell Horth, to the effect that as North Saanich residents had not participated in the referendum that originally established the centre, aid would not be forthcoming from that municipality.

Both letters were received and filed by Sidney Council, with no debate on the motion other than quiet mutterings.

After the letters had been disposed of, Alderman Fred Robinson introduced a motion that would have levied a charge of $10 per person per year on North Saanich senior citizens wishing to use the centre.

Robinson introduced his motion with a preamble describing "certain North Saanich aldermen" as having "insensible, parochial and parasitical views."

With the comment that he "agreed in principle" with Robinson, but felt he was "getting the wrong people", Alderman Chris Andersen offered the only other support for the motion.

After comments from Mayor Stan Dear that the move might do more harm than good; that he understood a group of North Saanich users of the centre were prepared to exert their "influence" on North Saanich Council; and that the move would likely require renegotiation of the lease with the Silver Threads Service - Robinson withdrew his motion.

Not, however, before saying that he as fed up with the rural council.

"Every time we try to get something reasonable (from North Saanich) we get slapped in the face," he claimed, describing his motion as an attempt to "ram it down their throats."

Concluding his comments, Robinson said that not all North Saanich aldermen agreed with the lack of support, however: "There are some who are reasonable; some who are very unreasonable."

NEW FLOATS

A $44,300 contract has been awarded Pacific Piledriving Co. Ltd. of Victoria for float renewal at Sidney, Public Works Minister J.E. Dube announced last week.

The successful firm submitted the lower of two tenders received. The higher bid was $47,896.

Float renewal will consist of the repair and maintenance of eight log floats, measuring 10 by 60 feet, in the Sidney harbour. These floats provide public docking facilities for pleasure craft. The project is scheduled for completion by late May 1973.

PENINSULA POLICE NEWS

HOVEY ROAD RESIDENT TO SPEND WEEKENDS IN MAINLAND JAIL...

A lady who took to her automobile in front of the Sidney RCMP office at 1:55 a.m. on April 1st and then drove through a stop sign en route to the Patricia Bay Highway, will spend a number of weekends in jail on the mainland for being impaired while operating the car. Doreen Fisher, 1847 Hovey Road, told the court that she was a single parent with a 12 year old and a 17 year old.

"Have you made arrangements to go to jail?" asked the judge.

"No I haven't."

"You are sentenced to fourteen days imprisonment," said Ashby. "This is your second offence. You are also placed on probation for a period of seven weeks and prohibited from driving for six months."

"Would it be possible," asked the lady, "Would it be possible to make up the time on weekends. I could go to jail on weekends and look after the children during the week."

"That would mean you would have to go to the mainland every weekend," said Judge Ashby. "You go in at eight o'clock on a Saturday morning and are released at eight o'clock on Sunday night."

The plan was agreed to and the lady sat down, her case concluded.

SIDNEY BURGLAR GIVEN ONE YEAR PROBATION

Kerry Ross Hamilton, who appeared in Sidney Provincial court on Monday morning for sentencing, was placed on probation for twelve months. He was also ordered to make restitution in the amount of $21.30 which was his share in an amount stolen from Wash Rite laundromat on Third Street.

"You will reside at home," said the judge. "You will keep such hours as are directed by your parents." He then addressed a few words to the 17 year old youth's mother: "If you have any problems with him, Mrs. Hamilton, please let us know."

"Keep busy," he said to Kerry, "Keep busy and keep out of mischief... okay, thanks very much."

FATHER OF FIVE CHILDREN CONVICTED

A mainland team found guilty of failing to comply with a probation order were given a second chance to make amends on Monday morning. Ronald Victor and Norma Doris Hurst, 1039-4th Avenue, New Westminster, were obliged by a previous court order to make restitution in the amount of $4,900 to Saanich Builders Ltd; since they failed to do this they were summoned into court and found guilty as charged.

A pre-sentence report suggested that the couple be given three months remand of sentence. Counsel for the defence concurred: "It seems a rather anomalous course of action to commit him to prison. It's an awful lot of money to pay back. I concur with three months remand of sentence."

Judge Ashby spoke to the convicted pair: "This is a lot of money to the poor victim," he said. "I think they tend to forget the poor victim in cases of crime. They had a lot of time to pay and not one single cent or dollar was paid back."

"I'm prepared to go ahead and give the adjournment but it will be the ONLY one that this court will consider. I'm not too happy about this. It's a crime that you people committed."

The couple, who have five children at home, were remanded until July 9th for a further review of the matter. The time was 10:21 a.m.

FISHERMAN CHANGES NAME IN MIDSTREAM

The spring sun was so intense flooding through the six ceiling high windows of the court chamber on Monday morning, that light reflected from the metal tape recording spool onto the back of one court official's imitation black leather swivel chair. It had the motion of a lighthouse beacon upon the chair. At 10:26 an attractively dressed woman and man entered the court room. As they sat down together, the girl smiled faintly. She was wearing a purple sweater.

"Are you Lucas?" asked Crown Counsel of the man.

"Yes."

Crown counsel then proceeded to inform the gentleman, one Wayne Randall Lucas, 1740 Lands End Road, that he was charged with providing false information to a conservation officer whilst angling in China Creek on January 7th. When questioned by a game warden he told him his name was Justin C. Sims, a resident of Superior Street in Victoria.

"How do you plead?" asked the judge.

"I would have to plead guilty."

"You don't HAVE to plead guilty."

"Guilty," said the North Saanich man.

"Why did you furnish false information," asked the judge, on learning that Mr. Lucas had told the conservation officer he did not have a fishing licence.

"At the time I think it was pure panic," replied the angler. "There was no thought to it." He spoke holding his left elbow, as though it were bothering him.

"It was a very foolish thing to do. You were misleading the officials. It's very serious..."

"It was extremely foolish."

"What do you do for a living?"

"I work for the municipality of Saanich. It was extremely foolish your honor."

"Well, just sit down now," said the judge, ruffling through his papers. The man sat down on a metal chair in the front row of the spectator area. Crown counsel was also ruffling through papers, "I can't find the list your honor," he said, referring to the listed penalty for such an offense.

"I'll take a look on the bulletin board." He slipped through a side door into the police office. The court reporter stood up. "I'm sorry about this, your honor." Suddenly, the judge too stood up and vanished in the wake of crown counsel leaving a sudden vacuum of officialdom in the chamber. Two probation officers began whispering to one another. Neither the China Creek fisherman nor his lady companion made any move to communicate.

The judge re-entered the chamber. "There's a list somewhere," he said.

"Are you married?" asked Ashby of Lucas.

"No sir."

"Well I can't treat this too lightly young fellow. It's putting the authorities to a lot of trouble... I am fining you $75."

Mr. Lucas paid the fine before leaving.

HEROIN FOUND IN McDONALD PARK CAMPSITE

The afternoon sitting of Sidney Provincial court on Monday involved two serious cases. The first dealt with a charge against a young town resident for possession of heroin; the second, which took less time to conclude, concerned a man who admitted to having sexual intercourse with a girl under age fourteen.

On the first matter, that of heroin possession, Michael Stephen White, 9555 Canora Road, was observed parked in a 1956 Ford in McDonald Park on October 13th, 1972 by Constable Ron Jones. There were two men in the Ford.

"As we approached the vehicle both men looked up at us," said Constable Jones. "Mr. White sort of slumped down. He moved forward away from the steering wheel... I directed Mr. White to step out of the vehicle; both men were then asked to stand at the rear of their vehicle. They sat on a log there. The vehicle was then searched by Constable Gerich and then partially by myself."

A number of spoons were discovered by the police officers, as well as a hypodermic syringe in a pocket of a brown coat on the back seat of the car; a small piece of tin foil, crumpled up, plus a small bottle containing a clear liquid were also found.

Under cross examination by defense lawyer Dermot D. Owen-Flood, Constable Jones, was asked who had checked the arms of the other passenger. "Constable Brown," Jones wiped his brow then stood with his hands behind his back, brass buttons glinting. During his cross examination the defence lawyer paced about one side of the courtroom, both hands in his pockets. "The tin foil didn't show up in the first search," said Owen-Flood. "When it did show up it was well hidden, was it not?"

"I can't say."

"Did you check the registration of the car?"

"No, not personally."

Constable Joseph Gerich then took the witness stand, explaining in his own words what had taken place. "We frisked them really lightly. Then told the two men to go to the back of the car and we checked the interior. It was a little difficult. I used a flashlight."

"The tin foil was on the floor. It was all crumpled up, wasn't it?"

"Yes," answered the constable.

"Thank you. That will be all."

Then followed a ten minute intermission, during which the official court reporter worked on a crossword puzzle.

Constable M.A. Clarabut took the stand and told the court how he personally had dealt with the accused back at the police station. "I proceeded to do a skin search. I found a syringe in the front portion of his underwear."

However, when analyzed, the syringe did not contain any narcotic substance; only the tin foil contained traces of heroin.

Following a hearing of all aspects of the case, defense lawyer Owen-Flood rose to his feet. He did not agree with prosecutor Mike Hutchinson that the accused knew what was in the tin foil. "Just a few particles of white substance were found in the foil. How can you impute that a crumpled up little piece of tin foil, as even the officer admitted, was truly in his possession. In order to have possession you must have control. This is not proven."

"Well," said the judge, when the sun-tanned solicitor took his seat, "I have listened to the evidence. You have to take note that only White made a move forward and towards the center of the vehicle when the officers approached. What was he doing? When a search was made of the car all the paraphernalia related to a crime of this kind were discovered. The analyst found enough in that piece of tin foil to establish that it contained heroin. A hypodermic needle was in Mr. White's underwear; if he carried it around for legitimate purposes he wouldn't keep it in his underwear."

The case was remanded to April 30th, at 10 a.m. for a pre-sentence report.

BURNABY MAN CONVICTED OF HAVING RELATIONS WITH JUVENILE GIRL

Leonard Barry Nugent, who had been unable to raise bail pending his trial on Monday afternoon, was escorted out of a police cell into Sidney court and sat down next to his lawyer.

Throughout the brief hearing he spoke but a few words. There were four spectators in court, including a young child eating a piece of candy.

Mr. Nugent pleaded guilty to having sexual relations with a girl under fourteen, between Nov. 1 and January 20th, 1973.

An RCMP constable testified that as a result of a complaint lodged by the parents of the girl the matter had been taken under consideration by the local detachment. "Mr. Nugent had intercourse with the victim. He was not a stranger to the victim and our investigation has established that there was full co-operation."

Mr. Nugent, who lives at 6355 Kingsway in Burnaby, was set free on his own recognizance pending a pre-sentence report to be prepared for April 30th.

ACCIDENTS

An attempted turn at the junction of Third St. and Sidney Avenue cost Shirley Cooke, Fifth St., $400 in car damage on April 4. There were no injuries, however and no charges have been laid.

A collision between two south-bound vehicles took place on the Pat Bay Highway near Beacon intersection at 3:20 p.m. on April 6. Cars driven by Dawn King, 476 Quayle, Victoria and Ed Dawes, Prince Rupert, collided and received $650 worth of damage. There were no injuries and charges are still pending.

An accident at the junction of Pat Bay highway and McTavish put traffic lights out of commission for at least 24 hours this week.

Cars driven by John McMillan, 1811 McKenzie and David Lee, 1445 Fort were both heading south at 7:30 p.m. April 6 and McMillan's car ran into the rear of Lee's vehicle, bouncing off into a light standard and interfering with the control circuit. There were no injuries and charges will be laid. Damage amounted to $3,000.

Michael Wallace, 9519 Maryland fell asleep at the wheel of his car at 9 a.m. on April 7 and went into the ditch at Bourne Rd. The car suffered $300 damage and Wallace has been charged with driving without due care and attention.

A collision in Safeway Parking lot on April 9 caused $250 damage to cars driven by Eva Hammond, 2325 Brethour and Jessie Michaud, Central Saanich. No charges have been laid.

WHARF LEASE ON WAY TO APPROVAL

With alderman Jack Hamilton consistently voting in the negative, Sidney Council carried to third reading Monday evening, a by-law to allow a takeover of the Government wharf in Tsehum Harbour.

Much discussed by council members over the past few weeks, the take-over was encouraged by local fishermen - some of whom have been upset by the way in which the wharf has been operated by the Federal Government.

The Sidney move comes at a time when the City of Victoria are getting out of the operation of a similar facility there - because of the problems they have experienced.

"I don't feel the town has sufficient safeguards," claimed Hamilton. "We're asking for a lot of trouble and expense."

Disagreeing with the alderman, Mayor Stan Dear said council "owe it to the town and the fishermen to try" operating the docking facilities, and alderman Pat Merrett pointed out that the lease proposed by the Federal Government could be terminated on thirty days notice.

Two sources of conflict have been prevalent at the wharf for some time; with arguments as to whether the wharf exists for pleasure craft as well as commercial fishing boats, and refusal on the part of some fishermen to pay wharfage.

Late last year the Federal Government filed actions against a number of local fishing boat owners in small debts court, in an attempt to recover past due wharfage.

Prior to Christmas, a sailboat owned by local photographer Dane Campbell was ordered away from the wharf by Federal officials on grounds that it was not registered as a commercial fishing vessel.

STUDENT CIVIL LIBERTIES

ART EXHIBIT CONTINUES 'TIL SUNDAY

by Doreen Hunter

Local artists, Elizabeth Kerfoot (nee Gardner) and Edith Jones opened an exhibition of serigraphs, drawings, paintings and fabrics last Sunday at St. John's hall, West Saanich Road.

Edith Jones has won awards at Victoria and Island jury shows, and is represented in the permanent collections of the University of Victoria and the Victoria Art Gallery. She has worked entirely with silk-screens since 1963, and is showing many examples of her creativity and skill in this fine art.

In her work, she says, she attempts to share with others her love of nature and its many moods, and to show the interrelation of forms in nature.

Elizabeth Kerfoot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gardner of Heather Rd., in Deep Cove, is exhibiting a wide spectrum of her many interests in the world of art. These include life drawings, oils, block-print batik, woven wall-hangings, many using natural plant dyes, handbags, and samples of her fine embroidery.

Attractive to many visitors were the block-print fabrics featuring "Art Nouveau Poppies" in a lovely rose-on-brown combination, and one called "Wild Chicory", others a lively blue-on-brown combination, among

The show is open daily 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. through to Sunday, April 15th.

Players Prepare For Festival

PLAY WRITTEN BY CLUB MEMBER

by Vivian Wallace

With a successful and, from all accounts, thoroughly enjoyable melodrama, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" now just another addition to their scrapbooks, the Peninsula Players are already into rehearsals for their entry in the Vancouver Island Drama Festival. At the present time nine plays are entered in this Festival that is being hosted by the Country Church Players, and will be presented the week of April 30 to May 5, at the Church Hall, Glencairn Lane in Colwood.

Peninsula Players entry is an original one-act play entitled "Shroud" written by one of the newer members of the club, Danielle Butler. This is a mystery with an unusual twist. Not only will it have the audience guessing its outcome, but the actors themselves will not have been told the solution, until the 'detective' is handed his final lines just moments before the curtain falls on the actual performance.

With 13 members in the cast, the author and director, Mrs. Butler, is very busy developing the character of her characters as she saw them when they came to life on her typewriter. It should prove interesting, both for the Players themselves and for the audience.

BY-LAW CHANGES IN SANSCHA CONSTITUTION

A meeting of Sanscha members recently approved the following By-law changes:

1. Under nominations, add ... "Nominations may be accepted from the floor so long as they are members in good standing and are nominated and seconded by members in good standing."
2. Under election of Directors, change ... "In no case shall a director serve for more than two (2) consecutive years" to ... "two (2) consecutive terms."

A motion to institute a young people's section was defeated.

Customs Service Continuation

There will be no change in the substance of customs service on the Saanich Peninsula; nor is there any suggestion of removing the service — as had been stated by Department staff members earlier this year.

This was the essence of a reply to Esquimalt-Saanich MP Donald Munro, from Robert Stanbury, Minister of Revenue.

Stanbury had met with local businessmen and Chamber of Commerce officials in Sidney, listened to their suggestions, then promised an examination of the changes that had been proposed by district staff.

Mr. Munro phoned the Review on Friday, stating that the Minister had said in the House of Commons that no changes would take place without discussion with the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce and the local Member of Parliament.

During the early part of the year, major users of the customs service at the Anacortes ferry terminal and the Sidney International Airport had been informed that the service would be moved to Victoria.

Concerted effort on the part of businessmen, Mr. Munro — and particularly the Chamber of Commerce, however, resulted in the present decision to retain some service here.

KINSMEN DISAPPOINTED AT AUCTION RETURNS

In spite of a crowd of nearly four hundred people, the Kinsmen auction held at SANSCHA Hall on Monday evening cannot be described as a great success, according to Kinsmen Club members working at cleaning up the hall on Tuesday morning.

Net profit from the event will be approximately $500, a poor return club members claimed, for all the effort put into the sale.

The Kinsmen were disappointed mainly at the amount and quality of items donated for the annual sale, explaining that they would have lost money had it not been for a dealer who accounted for more than half the sales.

Local auctioneer Brock MacElroy (who donated his time) was a success, however, although he was unable to encourage sufficient bidding on the most valuable item available for sale: model A. Ford hot-rod pictured in the Review last week remained unsold at the sale's end.

Proceeds of the sale used for Sidney Kinsmen Club projects which include the No. 676 Squadron Air Cadets and improvements to Sidney's Tulista Park.

Vimy Night An Enjoyable Evening For Elderly Vets

ERIC FISHER was full of laughter when he alighted from the bus along with other First World War Vets celebrating Vimy Ridge night. (Mike Crossman photo)

Special to the Sidney Review
BY JOSHUA PERLMUTTER

Vimy Ridge was once again a great success Monday evening at the local Army and Navy Club on Fourth Street. In attendance were 20 veterans of the First World War, some of whom were members of the elite 'Old Contemptibles'.

Well known Sidney resident 'Scotty' McIntyre, was specially honored by those present and many friends in the unit came up to shake his hand. A 12 man pipe band of the Canadian Scottish were present and played a rousing variety of tunes, including 'Amazing Grace'. Bert Drysdale also played the 'Last Post', a trumpet solo which brought tears to the eyes of some veterans.

Former Victoria mayor, Hugh Stephens, was present; he is an official patron of the Old Contemptibles, and told a reporter that he had enjoyed the evening immensely. "Too often people forget what these men have done. They went through so much."

BERT DRYSDALE played 'The Last Post'.

HONORED BY LEGION ON VIMY NIGHT

The Royal Canadian Legion, Branch No. 37 honoured the Old Vets on a special VIMY NIGHT held Monday, 9th April.

An evening of excellent and musical entertainment was enjoyed by a large and enthusiastic crowd of old and not-so-old veterans of both sexes. Bill Ratcliffe's ever-popular Rube Band made a big hit with their stirring and humorous brand of music. A change of pace followed with some excellent renditions of old favourites by The Silver Threads Serenaders who were ably conducted by Jack Young in the absence of Bill Gibbons who we hope will be up and about again soon. Jack's solo rendition of The Company Sergeant Major, dedicated to Mac McWilliams, was very well done and enjoyed by all.

'FESTIVAL OF THE ARTS' IN DISTRICT SCHOOLS THIS WEEK AND NEXT

The Saanich Peninsula School District will be presenting its second district-wide "Festival of the Arts" beginning Tuesday, April 10th.

The keynote of the festival is participation. It is strictly non-competitive and the idea behind it is to involve as many students as possible. Over 1000 students will be participating in the choirs and bands alone, and many more will contribute to the various art displays. The students range in age from 6 to 18 and come from all grades and schools in the district.

The Festival has been expanded this year and has been divided into two sections. The first, which will be held April 10, 11, and 12 at Brentwood Elementary School will feature Drama clubs and groups from Saanichton Elem., Durrance Elem., Mt. Newton Jr. High, Beaver Lake-Prospect Lake Elem., Royal Oak Elem. and Jr. High, North Saanich Jr. High and Sansbury-McTavish Elem.

The same programme will include small music groups and clubs from the various schools. Participating will be Beaver Lake-Prospect Lake and Durrance Elementary Recorder clubs, Brentwood School Social Instrument Band and the Claremont Sr. Sec. Dixieland Band.

Art projects from all elementary schools will be displayed at Brentwood School on these three nights. Projects will include ceramics, papier mache, drawings, paintings, puppetry, mobiles, etc.

The second section of the Festival will be held the following week on April 16th and 17th at Claremont Sr. Secondary School and will feature choirs, bands and Jr. and Sr. Secondary School art displays. Choirs and Bands will be participating individually and will combine to perform mass numbers under the direction of Mr. D. Kyle, Mr. T. Ellwood, Mr. A. Scott and Mr. P. Stiggings.

Of special interest on these nights will be the Claremont Band and, the Saanich Youth Choir, both new additions to the districts music programme this year. Preparations for the Festival have been underway since January and all children and teachers are looking forward to contributing to the programmes. Starting times for programmes will be 7:30 and tickets are available at all Peninsula Schools.

GEORGE DICKASON, one of the few remaining pilots who flew in the First World War, had a sparkle in his eyes when the bag pipes first began to play. (Review photo by Mike Crossman.)

A NURSE in the First World War, Emily Griffiths, also attended Vimy Ridge Night. (Review photo by Mike Crossman)

Saturday, April 14th will be the final session of the Saturday morning Gym classes being conducted by the Victoria Y for the Sidney Elementary School. Arrangements are being made for another series of lessons in the Fall.

The Spring advanced gymnastic course got under way last week, with 24 enthusiastic gymnasts between the ages of 6 and 16 years.

The Sidney Club Directory is now being up-dated. All clubs and organizations, which would like to be listed are asked to forward by mail to the Sidney Recreation Commission, 2440 Sidney Ave., or by phone, 656-4914, the name of their Club president and secretary and meeting date. All information is requested before the first of May.

The Junior Volunteer and Leaders' Training Course will get under way this week. Mrs. Mavis Sather reports a good response from young people. Most sessions will be held on Wednesdays, but the initial session will be held on Thursday, April 12 from 7-8:30 at Sanscha. Pre-registration by phone or by person is recommended. The enrolment is limited so those interested might call the Recreation Office now. Succeeding weeks will see information on programme assistance, planning, first aid, introduction to tennis, soccer, softball, mini-ball, etc.

Badminton leaders are reminded of the badminton meeting on Wednesday, April 18, at 8:30 p.m. at the recreation office.

Those interested in family outings are asked to attend a meeting on Thursday, April 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the Sidney Recreation Office. The purpose of this meeting is to ascertain the interest in this type of activity. Family groups will be encouraged to bike, hike, and enjoy the outdoors with others of similar interests. Why not attend this meeting and begin to plan a few outings for yourself and your family.

Of interest to girls and boys in Grades 4 to 7, sandlot softball is expected to get started April 30, right after the Easter holidays. Announcement will also be made shortly on an activity programme for children of Grades 1, 2, and 3. This programme will begin in May.

There are a few vacancies in the creative tots' and the ladies keep fit series which are now under way.

GIRLS SOFTBALL

Girls softball registrations, 11 and 12 year olds and 16 and 17 year olds, Sanscha Hall, Sunday, April 15, 1-3 p.m. Coaches and managers required. Phone Alana Gallagher, 656-3637.

CENTRAL SAANICH

The Drop-In for Moms has become quite a popular feature of our activities, and the steady growth has necessitated a move to the Scout Hall on W. Saanich Rd., where there is a separate room available for children who come with their mothers.

Some of the topics discussed last Friday morning were: The meat boycott & "Convenience" foods, Tennis and other daytime activities for mothers, Easter ideas - How to make chocolate Easter Eggs, Fancy food for Easter and a demonstration of decorations & small gifts for Easter.

If you have nothing planned for this Friday morning, why not drop in and join us. Coffee is on from 10:00 till 11:30 the company is friendly and the conversation is interesting. This week we will be having a most interesting speaker; Mrs. Morgan Ostler will be talking on "Basic Chinese Cooking & Nutrition". As someone who cooks for a family of 10 every day, she is an expert on nutritious food preparation on a budget.

Incidentally, you don't have to be a "Mom" to attend!

Participants in the Krafts for Kids course are quite enthusiastic about the creations they are taking home. Some pretty fantastic balloon "creatures" came out of the first session, and the following sessions are also showing inventive genius. We are delighted to have some assistance from a couple of young girls out of the "Help Club" at Mt. Newton Jr. Secondary. If you missed out on the first group and would be interested in another after Easter holidays, please give us a call.

The leader of our Creative Tots group which starts after Easter is appealing for all sorts of equipment. Children's books, toys, puzzles, balls, crayons, scissors, paints, brushes, ribbons, beads, buttons, styrofoam, paper rollers, old hats for dressup, playground equipment of any kind, child-size tables & chairs, and a sandbox. If you are Spring cleaning and wish to dispose of any of these items, please call the Recreation Office.

We urgently require the services of a babysitter who would work with a group of children for 1-1½ hrs. during a morning, while the mothers are participating in a group activity. If you are interested please contact

TENNIS MEETING THURSDAY

If the events of last Wednesday and Saturday are any indication, the immediate future for tennis on the Peninsula is bright indeed.

A total of 22 housewives showed up on Wednesday morning and every attempt will be made to make this a regular session, along with Mondays at the same time.

On Saturday, all 3 courts were full until later in the afternoon. Once again, the enthusiasm of the younger group matched that of the seniors and promises well for the future.

The all-important meeting to decide the Club's future course will be held this Thursday, 12 April, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Church Hall, Cultra Ave., close to Central Saanich Police Headquarters. It is hoped that all points of view will be aired, because that is the only way the "right" decisions can be made.

If you have a question, on instruction, contact Mr. Winston Brydson at 652-3042; if on Recreational and Competitive Mr. Jim MacMahon at 656-4039; if on membership or housewife's sessions, contact Mrs. Sally Wait at 652-2079. Or, better still, meet them and the other directors at the meeting this Thursday. The signs for the future are good; the directors invite you, the reader, to join with us in assuring that future, for tennis and for tennis players.
